A. S. Doniphun. 727 King Street ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 26. Isaac Patrick, colored, arrested in Washington last night, was returned to this city late today, where he is wanted in connection with the robbery at the home of Robert Arnold, at New Alexandria, south of this city, on July 13. Eight men entered the Arnold home, claiming to be prohibition enforcement agents and stole $102. Later they forced Argold into an automobile and drove him to Arlington County where he was ordered to alight. Police claim Arnold and the members of his family identified Patrick, who denies his guilt. The prisoner will be arraigned before United States Commissioner W. P. Woolls to answer a charge of impersonating a revenue officer. He is also wanted in Fairfax County to answer a charge of robbery. It is answer a charge of robbery. It is expected that they will be given a preliminary hearing this week be-fore Commissioner Woolls.

A committee of Chamber of Commerce members yesterday afternoon held a conference with the road commissioners of Prince George County, Md. in reference to the con-atruction of a road to connect up with Fox's Ferry before the local merchants start a ferry service be-tween Alexandria and the Mary-land side. Assurances were given land side. Assurances were given the committee, it was announced that the commissioners would construct the proposed road about a mile and an eighth as soon as the right of way is obtained from the adjoining property owners.

The road will cost about $3,000.

The road will cost about $3,000. As soon as it is constructed the local merchants contemplate establishing a ferry service between Alexandria and the Maryland shore. Postoffice Reveals Efforts of Swindlers to Defraud

Dollars of a hard-up public are being enticed away by an increasing number of "get-rich-quick" schemes, the Postoffice Department announced yesterday.

A "divining rod." guaranteed to locate oil pools, gold deposits, silver and other valuable minerals, has just been traced down by posal inspectors.

A colored swindler advertised in A colored swindler advertised in various negro papers to send persons. "The Keys to the Kingdom" for $1 only. Hundreds of his race, believing it would be an open sesame to the kingdom of heaven, sent the doilar only to get back an absolutely unintelligible mass of words. The swindler was finally caught, was let go on promise to reform and immediately started out at his old tricks.

One that has been piled with some success, until stopped by inspectors, was the catchy advertisement to become a lyric writer for popular songs for $75 to $100. The victim sent in a poem to be set to music, expecting soon to rival Irving Berlin. The money went with it, and, like the great reputation soon to be established, neither came
